Business Men's Association Has Post-Paid Its Efforts Towards Enlargement of the Plant

Year.

At a recent meeting of members of the Mexico Business Men's Association who are interested in the enlargement of the Mexico Fire Brick and Clay Co.'s plant in this city, it was decided to postpone their efforts to assist the enterprise until after New Year.

The business interests of the community have not been made to understand the importance of the proposition, said an official of the Business Men's Association, "and until the plant is closed down and the present employees thrown out of employment it will not be realized the advantages of the concern to the city. There are at present about 40 men on the payroll and let these be dismissed and each business man of the city will reap the consequences."

The present stockholders of the concern are not taking anything for nothing. They have spent their own money in experimenting and under the management of Henry Meyer it has been fully demonstrated that with additional kiln capacity the plant would be a success in every way. This would also mean that the number of laborers would be increased, thereby furnishing work for more people.

"Mexico people offered over $25,000 as a bonus to Mr. Dixon to establish a fire brick plant in this city several years ago and it can be stated from authentic sources that had the proposition been gone through with, Mr. Dixon would not have had a large plant as would be the local concern with the additional kiln capacity. It does seem that Mexico people would take advantage of this proposition now at $5,000 in capital stock now at a few years ago they bid $25,000 in cash for something they knew nothing of whatsoever."

"Now let the people of this community awaken to the objects of this concern and make it even greater and assure its permanency as an institution that Mexicans can point to with pride."

No finer goods made than Dearing's.
